I highly recommend Noah Battenfeld as a candidate for a teaching position at your school. As Professor of Education at Bethany Lutheran College I have had the pleasure of working with Noah for the past three years. Noah stands out among other graduates in the areas of dedication to the profession, positive attitude, creating an optimal classroom environment, and the ability to create and teach high quality lessons that meet the needs of diverse student populations.

Noah has a strong reputation of always creating student-centered environments. He is proficient in guiding students to meet academic standards while also meeting their social and emotional needs. Noah has high expectations for his students while providing supports and scaffolding so that all students can be successful. Noah is a positive role model and makes connections with every student under his care.

In every school he has worked with, Noah has built a very good reputation with teaching staff and administrators alike. Noah has a great personality and will fit into any school. He goes above and beyond by enthusiastically volunteering for any and all opportunities within the college and community. Noah makes strong connections with everyone around him and is well-liked everywhere he goes.

Noah accomplishes all these tasks with great initiative and with a positive attitude. I recommend Noah to you without reservation. If you have any further questions with regard to his background or qualifications, please do not hesitate to contact me.
